CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEA, heroine, broke in London when war broke out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero, the Yankee who sees her through.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday's Disguise as an old woman, Polly starts from Dover to cross the Channel and mean-while the woman with the blue bonnet has written her, revealing the truth about Jerry's abduction.

CHAPTER XV

PASSENGERS in the Deal coach were surprised to observe the tall old dame in rusty black burst into musical laughter and at the same time wipe tears from her eyes.

Such, actually, was Polly's state of mind. Elation and joy. She felt that she hadn't a care on earth. She was several thousand miles from home in an enemy country with a dangerous journey before her, and Jerry was impressed by the British navy on a ship called the Sunrise, undoubtedly in a helpless and desperate state. Yet she hadn't a care in the world. Jerry had not deserted her. Jerry loved her.

She read the letter again. It struck her as being a delightful piece of literature. Even Maize Miller's erratic spelling and her peculiar sprinkling of capital letters held a charm.

She suddenly noticed that all the passengers were looking at her. The coach driver had turned in his seat to say to her reprovingly, "I ask you again, M'am, where is it you want to be set down?" "Oh!" said Polly. Then, "Let me off at Corby, please, south of Deal!" Her voice was ringing with vitality. The passengers' faces all betrayed the fact that they had never before encountered such an amazing old woman.

HIS Majesty's brig Sunrise, carrying 30 guns, had moved out of the gradually widening Thames into the North Sea. She sailed like a fearless bird that can go where she wills, proud of her plumage and her standing.

Now where the fair island of England is at its broadest there is a town called Lowestoft. As the Sunrise sailed north she passed within call of this port. The two marines who stood guard at the hatch above the prison hold spoke of this matter. One of them had a sweetheart in that port, and when he saw some female figures waving from shore, as women will at sight of a ship, he was moved to speculate as to whether his girl might be among them. The conversation of the two marines could be heard in the hold. Jerry Whitfield said to Cabell Banks, "We're close to shore!"

Just those few words, but he spoke them so tensely that Cabell, who was lying in his hammock with closed eyes, came alert. He turned and opened his eyes to see Jerry Whitfield disappear up the ladder with the softness and swiftness of a cat.

AS for Jerry, he was impelled by instinct entirely. Reasoning did not enter into it. He gained the deck, balanced his slender but powerful body for a moment for his greatest protection of strength, hurried himself toward the two hateful backs and struck down both men simultaneously.

He had reached the edge of the deck and had a leg over the bulwark before two other marines seized him and brought him back. After that things happened rapidly. There was a report to the Captain who listened attentively and smiled oddly.

A call was piped shrilly, calling all hands. Cabell, listening on the ladder of the hold, knew what this meant. He too must go above. He went, with sick heart and dragging feet.

To Jerry Whitfield, reason had returned. Instinct still surged within him—the old primitive instinct that writhes at the feel of a whip on naked flesh—but reason dominated. With a proud and scornful dignity he went where he was commanded to go, permitted without useless struggle the shirt to be stripped from his back and his feet to be fastened to the gratings. He heard the command "Twenty lashes!" without moving his eyes from a distant cloud. He was conscious then of nothing except his own superhuman determination to make no outcry.

As he turned to go, afterward, Banks fell into step with him. The two prisoners went below. Banks said, "Here's some salve I bought from the surgeon's helper. I'll put it on for you." His aristocratic, ugly face was as white as death.

"Thank you," Jerry Whitfield said. Presently they pulled hemp strands from the damp rope and resumed their game of yesterday, and after that they spoke of how the foliage would soon be turning in Massachusetts, and of the scarcity of wild turkeys near the settled places.

It was not until night, from the depths of a pain-filled sleep that Jerry shouted, "I'll get even with them for this!" It was the threat that cruelty automatically produces.

IN Boston the hour was not so late. Mr. Cabell Banks, senior, was pacing the drawing room floor in his beautiful square Georgian house on Beacon Street while his wife sat erectly before the fire sipping coffee from a small fragile cup and urging him to be calm.

Beside Mrs. Banks on the high-backed sofa sat a small, almost-pretty, very intelligent young woman, perhaps 22-years old. She sipped coffee. Her slippers were with the neat ribbon laces around her ankles were placed properly together on the Persian rug. Her dress was slim and high waisted, squarely cut at the neck—identical in style, indeed, with the frocks of Maize Miller and the Empress Josephine, for while three countries were warring with all their might, their women stood resolutely together as regarding short waists and tight skirts.

Prudence Winthrop was this girl's name, and her father was in business with the witty old man who paced the floor. She was very much attached to that old man's son. She confessed as much now to his parents: "If Cabell comes home and asks me, I shall accept him. He's homely and high-strung but I find him stimulating. I am very fond of him."

"Thank you, my dear," said Cabell's plump and proper mother. She leaned to kiss the cool young cheek affectionately. "This is highly appropriate!" he exclaimed. "Your father and I have wished for some such thing to happen."

... But where is my son, he demanded, returning to his anxiety. "What assurance have we that he will ever get home to us?" "No assurance," replied Mrs. Banks. "We can only hope and pray." ... As it was time for family worship, they called in the servants and set about it in the proper Boston way. Mr. Banks read from the Scriptures and offered up a stout prayer. He mentioned almost everyone in public life except the King of England and the President of the United States, both of whom had offended him by causing this war.

They all thought of young Cabell as standing at the prow of the barkentine Hardy, avoiding the British and sailing home to them, as good a Federalist as when he had left them. They little dreamed of his new life, his new ideas and his new friend, Jeremiah Whitfield.

after the crops are in. And that is why Roosevelt has been secretly goading the British into buying the Germans off with the return of colonies.

Note—Latest reports are that the British have not been averse to this, but are trying to find some face-saving device so their colonial surrender to Germany will not look like surrender.

Ecclasiastical Support

There is one diplomat whom Roosevelt will not oust from the service no matter how ardently the State Department may wish it. He is Antonio C. Gonzales, American Minister to Ecuador, who has been kicked all around the diplomatic chessboard, but cannot be kicked out.

Gonzales is an American citizen only by the accident that his Cuban parents were in the United States when he was born. Completely Latin by blood and temperament, he refers to Latin Americans, with whom he is supposed to promote good-neighborliness, in a slighting manner. Partly because of this, the State Department transferred him from Panama to more distant Ecuador, hoping that he would be eased out of the service. But the White House has decreed that Gonzales must have another post.

Inside reason is that Gonzales was appointed with the approval of Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York.

Merry-Go-Round

Passers-by in the Department of Commerce gather in crowds to watch a Bureau of Fisheries exhibit which shows miniature live game-fish swimming upstream.

If you are afraid of slipping when you get into the bathtub, a mechanical lifting device just patented makes it possible to recline on a seat on the bathroom floor, pull a lever, and have yourself safely lifted and shuttled and lowered into the tub. ... California grape growers will have a new competitor in the winter market this year. The Department of Agriculture has issued a permit for importation of South African grapes, to be treated for fruit-fly infestation by refrigeration in transit.

COLLEGE BOYS HUSKIER

A writer in the American Medical Journal concludes that college students as a whole are bigger men than their daddies were. Their increase in stature during the past 20 years is said to be due to better nutrition, higher standards of living, control of disease and greater health consciousness on the part of parents.

OLD EXCUSE SPIKED

There is now no reason for the excuse, "I didn't know the gun was loaded." A patent has just been awarded an inventor who has constructed a signal that appears on the breech of the gun while the weapon remains loaded.

Scientists Look Into Future and Tell of Human Living

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

AP Feature Service Writer

Only 35 years have passed since President "Teddy" Roosevelt was praised by the newspapers for his "characteristic courage" in riding an automobile.

Today more people in the United States ride automobiles than use toothbrushes. Teddy's grandchildren can cross the Pacific in a passenger plane, and transport pushes on toward undreamed speed and comfort.

Stratosphere Travel

From scientists and technicians who toll on devices to cater to a populace which travels more than any other in world history, comes this preview of transportation in 1963.

Air travel de luxe—The China-bound North Orient Express slips through the placid stratosphere. In the air-conditioned dining-dancing salon, New York Importer Jack McGee tops off luncheon with strawberries and cream some 25,000 feet above the frozen tundra of the Arctic.

He and his 200 fellow-passengers are on a two-and-a-half-day flight from New York to Peiping. In deep-cushioned chairs they enjoy a television presentation of the football game between McGee's own Fighting Irish and the Golden Gophers of Minnesota.

After dinner and dancing to melodies from San Francisco, McGee chats by radio telephone with his wife in their Long Island home. Pipe dream? Not if you take the word of conservative aviators. Technicians now are working on super-charged engines and cabins for high-altitude atmosphere, and there is serious talk that coast-to-coast sub-stratosphere trips will be offered the traveler in two or three years.

The Family Plane

Middle Class Family Flying—On a sizzling Sunday morning in July, Groceryman Joe Shultz of Topeka, Kas. drives his auto-plane from the home garage down to Topeka's Field for private flyers. Mrs. Shultz.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY by Baer

"I'm hiding The Telegraph classified ad section so my patients won't be running off to take advantage of its values just before their turn in the chair."

the two children and an automatic ice cream freezer are with Joe as he takes off in his low-priced "fool-proof" plane for a Sunday outing the Colorado mountain country.

Flight of fancy? Aeronautical folk are confident all this will come true within 25 years. Roadable aircraft already are here. The steady improvement in small planes, plus American marketing talent, a generation growing up determined to fly and the vast air "roominess" of the United States, presage flying by a sizeable percentage of the population. Experts say volume demand will bring mass production and low-priced aircraft.

Pleasure Driving at 140

Motoring in 1963—Vermonters Aaron Snowbound and family leave home in a blue-gray dolphin of the highways for an autumnal week-end at the national capital.

Their 1963 car is a bit bulbous-nosed, boasts "dining-car window visibility," super-safety glass all around and perfected air conditioning. The feather-weight metal auto, streamlined like a fish, has a thick outer layer of rubber to reduce collision hazards.

Chemically-treated fuels help make the compact power plant almost 100 per cent efficient. The Snowbounds have put a half-pint of essence of helicopter in the fuel tank to make the exhaust fumes pleasant for other drivers on the road.

Papa Snowbound turns the dolphin onto a six-lane superhighway (with bypasses at all towns). The perfectly-engineered road is illuminated at night, the paving is skidresisting and self-de-icing. With automatic gears, automatic brakes and perfect stabilization, the car almost drives itself. It can do 140 miles an hour, but the Snowbounds, being conservative, ease along at 78.

Vibrationless Trains

The train in 1963—The Cornbelt Comet glides out of Chicago, its horn trumpeting a melodious au revoir to suburbanite. Picking up speed, the metallic rabbit of the rails soon is a maize-striped streak of corn-flower blue in the prairie dusk.

Says Iowa Farmer Hoffman to his hired man as they watch the streamliner whiz toward Des Moines: "Looks like she's hitting 130 tonight, Hank."

In the softly-illuminated, vibrationless dining car of the Comet, white-haired Henry A. Wallace, former secretary of agriculture, dines on corn-fed chicken and quick-frozen golden bantam corn. Behind the diner is the music-movie-television salon, air-conditioned, noise-muffled, free of dirt and bacteria.

Fading from the American scene is the old "iron horse." In its place are quiet, slip-streamed versions of the "steam snorter," electric and diesel-electric locomotives.

Piling up in the transportation graveyard also is that venerable carrier of freight, the wooden box car. The "side-door pullman," which endeared itself to the wanderers of the open road, is rapidly being displaced by an all-purpose, light-weight metal car to carry everything from mushrooms to machinery.

These cars, which can be loaded or unloaded from six sides, have the fleet, joltless qualities embodied in the passenger trains that have replaced old "Number 6."

IN DIVORCE COURT

Chicago—(AP)—Edward J. Brundage, Jr., 22, whose late father was attorney general of Illinois, has filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Josephine Brundage, charging desertion. They were married Sept. 7, 1935.

low, after becoming Assistant Secretary of the Interior, was not placed in a position to rule on patronage matters.

Presidential Censor

Franklin D. Roosevelt, aristocrat, was educated at Groton and Harvard. Lurton R. Ender, clerk in the Western Division of the AAA was educated at Ames College, Iowa. But when Ender doesn't like the President's language, he changes it.

One day Ender's Division Chief, George E. Farrell, sent a letter to western committeemen, in which he quoted a letter from the President on the subject of the farm bill.

The Farrell letter came across the desk of Lurton R. Ender. He read it, decided the President had committed errors, and blue-penciled the letter. When it was pointed out to him that he had taken liberties with an official letter from the White House, Ender defended himself warmly.

He said, "I can't help it. This is not in accordance with the government style book."

Note—The style book is a manual of rhetoric and grammar put out by the Government Printing Office. Ender had found differences between their rules and White House practice.

Probably it will be denied officially, but the Roosevelt Administration has been making some behind-the-scenes suggestions to the British that the best way to ease the tension in Europe is to give colonies to Germany.

Strategy behind this—to use very undiplomatic language—is to buy the Germans off. If Hitler can be weaned away from Mussolini, even for only a brief interval, it will give the British time to come nearer completion of their rearmament program, also to take a stronger stand in the Far East.

Roosevelt and the British both are playing for time. This has come to be the all-essential factor in Europe today.

Today the Nazi-Fascist war lords figure that from a military point of view they are at the top of the heap. But time is playing against them. Every passing month gives Britain a chance to catch up. Also there is the American big navy program now looming across the western horizon.

Both Britain and the United States have the money and the raw materials to build, the Fascist war lords reason, and it may be better to precipitate war before time has reversed the military scales.

That is why some confidential reports received by American naval and military intelligence predict the possibility of war this summer

BETTER BUY BUICK ON EASY GENERAL MOTORS TERMS

WEIGH the new cars dispassionately in the light of what they offer and the facts stand boldly forth as these:

Buick is the ONLY car on the market today offering the efficiency of valve-in-head straight-eight design—modernized with the phenomenally efficient new DYNAFLASH principle of combustion.

Buick is the only car your money can buy with the marvel-ride of TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING—springs of stout, shock-smothering coiled steel that lessen skid-risks, lengthen tire life, actually make the whole car more directable.

Buick is the only car with the safety-security of Unisteel Body by Fisher—plus the blessed quiet and peace of Silent Zone Body Mounting.

Buick is admittedly the best looking car on the market—chosen as such by popular vote with a greater margin over its nearest competitor than any other car enjoys!

Buick's performance is easily the most outstanding on the road—for soaring, thrilling lift and power it doffs its hat to no other car even approaching it in size and comfort.

Such are the facts, and on them you can well decide, "Better buy Buick!" But they do not end the tale. There are two points dealing with figures still needed to complete the full picture of Buick value:

— Buick is not only the lowest-priced straight-eight of its size on the market — But Buick actually lists at lower figures than do some sixes!

Check the facts, check the figures. We know where you'll find yourself in the end.

Modern Polo Is Good, Substantial and Progressive Community of Fine Homes In Which Citizens Exhibit Real Pride

Wide Thoroughfares Impress Visitor at First Glance

(Telegraph Special Service)

From the very beginning of the settlement known as Buffalo Grove, into its growth as the town of Polo and thence through the years of expansion, this history comes now to the picture of that community as it appears today.

Polo is the present home of some 1,900 persons all of whom have every reason to believe theirs is a good eight oil stations, one paint and wallpaper store, two harness shops, two creameries, one pants factory, two tailors, one furniture store, three undertakers, four implement dealers, a laundry, two hotels, four beauty parlors and one hatchery. Of the hotels, one is newly refurnished and the other is being remodeled.

Historic Site

The site at the corner of Mason and Division streets which is now occupied by the Lindeman bakery, has a unique history all its own. The building here, built in 1935, was originally known as the Cooper building where Mr. Cooper conducted a harness business and bought hides. Here General U. S. Grant purchased the hides for his father's tannery at Galena. Later this building was used as a restaurant cashier. Directors of the bank include Mr. Stahler, Mr. Hersch, Price Heckman, John L. Hackett, George Trump, Henry Graehling and Mr. Hostetter.

Entertainment for Polo citizens is afforded by Mr. and Mrs. H. Upton's movie theater, an up-to-date playhouse which displays all the latest feature pictures. The theater has been remodeled recently and meets all the requirements of a modern show house.

Polo Industries

Although, as most towns in northern Illinois, Polo is largely an agricultural community, there are a few outstanding industries which employ many of the townspeople or in other ways contribute to their support. The Goldbro corporation now operates a garment factory in the south end of town. The factory

Roger Babson Points Way Out of Current "Recession"

Babson Park, Ill., Feb. 18.—Business sentiment is about as bad as I ever remember I think it is even flatter than in the 1932-33 period. Yet, strange as it may seem, this is a good sign. America has pulled herself out of former tailspins. The turn has always come quietly and unseen while pessimism and uncertainty were at their peak. Today I am convinced that the despair and gloom of businessmen has gone too far. We may even be making the turn right now. Among the important reasons why I think this is possible is the excellent performance of retail trade.

Industrial output has fallen like a comet, yet retail trade has held up remarkably well. January "clearances," while not quite matching the whirlwind 1937 season, were good. Merchants cut prices much more than usual in order to keep their goods moving. These recent sales have offered some real bargains and there will be more between now and the Easter season. Not only grocery, meat, department, clothing, furniture and shoe stores, but the big mail-order houses, are going after business "hammer and tongs." Various retail clothing prices have come down 5-15 per cent and retail food has backwatered about 7 per cent.

Many Fortunes Made in 1932

This current period of industrial recession shows how sensitive the business cycle is. Each phase brings its own special opportunities. People with foresight and courage who bought securities and commodities and started new enterprises in 1932 have established fortunes. We have a similar opportunity today—in a smaller way. Right now cash is a "sale" and raw materials and securities are a "buy." Those who are buying and investing today are doing themselves a good turn. More important, they are doing a service for their communities and the nation. As retail shelves are emptied orders shift back to factories and the "Help Wanted" signs are hung up once more.

Newspaper, magazine and radio advertisers are doing their bit, too, to help defeat the recession before it degenerates into a major depression. For thirty years, I have studied the business cycle and have tried to discover how the peaks and valleys can be ironed out. I have always been convinced that one of the solutions is by the proper use of advertising. When times are good and business is booming, advertisers like to drive for orders. This is only natural. Actually, however, manufacturers and merchants should hold back in good times and build up an advertising campaign to maintain their sales volume and their employment in periods such as the present.

Why Not Advertising "Relief?"

If all concerns in the same industry would agree to spend a certain percentage of their gross sales on advertising, this policy might be made workable. The trouble is that a few outfits would always back out of the bargain and take advantage of their competitors' programs. Two or three concerns can scarcely afford to carry the advertising for the industry. So, while the logical policy is to cut down on space when business is coming in under its own momentum and to boost sales budgets in slack periods, in practice the opposite happens.

The government is pouring out money for various purposes to stimulate public purchasing power. Why not consider a policy of allowing business concerns to deduct any increase in their advertising and selling expenses from their tax bills during periods when industrial production running below normal? Depressions are serious only when not connected with production, but rather with distribution and taxation. Speeding up the flow of goods is where we must put the emphasis rather than on speeding up the assembly line. Space advertising can play a tremendous part in this program.

Time to "Plug" Sales

Advertising is to mass distribution what the machine is to mass production. Right now, for instance, it deserves a good share of credit for the comparatively excellent volume of retail trade. "Sales" cannot move goods unless customers know about them. I think that merchants and manufacturers now realize this more than they did in 1929. Not only should purchasing power be inflated, but the will to buy should be encouraged. Advertising is the last item to cut in your sales budget unless you want to close up shop.

Cutting prices is just as essential as maintaining or stepping up your advertising quotas. Despite its early 1938 slap-in-the-face, purchasing power is still satisfactory although I expect that the year 1938 will average under 1937. Farm income may be down, factory payrolls may be lower, and there may be a sharp break in dividend payments. However, the drop in income on the average need not mean substantially less goods for everyone this year. Why? Because merchandise "sales" and cheaper food bills can go a long way toward offsetting the drop in the average family's income. If you give careful attention to your personal and household buying this year, I think you will come very close to matching your 1937 living standard.

Three Buying Rules

I have three specific suggestions along this line for the months ahead. First, shop carefully for your food. Always stock up on "sale" days on your staples. Watch the clothing, shoe, and other merchandise sales, although look carefully before you leap. Second, pay cash for your goods. Conservatively, installment buying costs you 10 to 35 per cent more than cash. Third, make a simple budget and stick to it. Remember, "A dollar saved is a dollar earned." There is no easier way to increase your income 10 per cent than by carefully buying all goods from tomato soup to oriental rugs! Follow these purchasing rules and 1938 will not be too bad a year!

ROE CUBMASTER OF NEW NORTH CENTRAL PACK

John C. Roe was appointed Cubmaster of the Cub pack to be organized in the North Central school at a meeting held Tuesday evening at the home of George Van Nuys. Mr. Roe is the father of a boy 11 years of age who will be a member of the pack. He is very much interested in the boys of North Central school and is determined to make the program of Cubbing available to the boys in such a way that every one will receive the greatest value and enjoyment from it. Mr. Roe is a member of the H. A. Roe Loan and Abstract company of Dixon.

The following dads of Cub-age boys have volunteered to be on the Pack committee: Harry N. Potter, chairman; D. A. Branigan, A. C. Edwards and G. H. Acker. This committee will represent the Parent Teachers association in making the program of Cubbing available to the boys of the community. The first meeting of the boys will be held in the recreation room of the North Central school on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 23 at 3:30 o'clock. E. A. Rowley, the local field Scout executive, will have charge of this meeting. The following den mothers will be present and assist with the program: Mrs. Dave Law, Mrs. L. L. Pessink, Mrs. E. M. Bastian and Mrs. A. C. Edwards. A Pack meeting will also be held at the same place on Wednesday afternoon, March 2. During the third week the Cubs will meet in dens at the homes of the various den mothers. Den Chiefs who are being selected and trained will be in charge of these meetings, assisted by the den mothers.

Willard O. Moore was appointed Cubmaster of the Cub pack to be organized in the South Central school at the meeting held at his home on Wednesday evening. Mr. Moore is also a parent of a Cub-age boy who will be a member of his pack. He has on his pack committee the following dads: Rev. C. L. Wagner, G. L. Kauffman and

A. H. Feger. Two dens have been arranged for in the South Central school district. They are at the home of Mrs. George Sykes at 317 E. Third street and Mrs. E. Eichenberger at 507 Hennepin avenue. These two mothers are acting as den mothers and will be assisted by Mrs. W. O. Moore, Mrs. Lee Carpenter and Mrs. E. B. Ryan, chairman of the South Central Den Mothers' association.

The first meeting of the boys of the South Central school will be held in the gymnasium of that school on Friday afternoon, Feb. 25 at 3:30. Cubmaster Willard Moore will be in charge of the meeting assisted by E. A. Rowley, field executive, the den mothers, and one or two of the den dads or pack committeemen.

Application cards will be made available to the boys who wish to register in the pack through the teachers in the various rooms of the two schools. Every boy of the ages 9, 10 and 11 years in the two districts is urged to enroll as a Cub and take advantage of this splendid program of fun and adventure.

HONOR "ALICE" CREATOR

Llandudno is a town in Wales. Americans know little about it. Perhaps one explanation is that Llandudno, like other Welsh names, is difficult to pronounce.

It was on the sand hills of Llandudno Beach that "Lewis Carroll," an Oxford mathematics teacher whose real name was Dr. Charles L. Dodgson, once strolled with the children of his host, Dean Liddell. Recently a white marble marker was erected at Llandudno, where Carroll was inspired to write his famous book, "Alice in Wonderland."

Llandudno is the Atlantic City of Wales and one of the chief seaside resorts of the British Isles. It is situated on the north coast of Wales, facing the Irish Sea.

substantial and progressive community in which to live. It becomes the purpose of this installment to point out to neighboring towns and to remind Polo itself of the advantages this northern Illinois town offers in proud array.

The visitor today to this city, named for that ancient world traveler, Marco Polo, is immediately impressed with the wide, modern thoroughfare banked on either side with modern business houses, servants to the people. Included in Polo's business section are two drug stores, three home owned grocery stores, two chain grocery stores, two variety stores, two meat markets, three men's clothing stores, a jewelry store, one radio shop, a chain hardware store, three insurance offices, one lumber company, a coal and ice company, two blacksmiths, a grain elevator, two feed mills, two produce houses, five restaurants, one ready-to-wear shop, three taverns, two hardware stores, two plumbing shops, two shoe stores, four barber shops, five garages, and bakery. Gus Chaffe, Leslie Beard and Mr. Schwartzendahl conducted this combined business for many years before Guy Donaldson and finally Thomas Hacker bought the building. In 1900 A. F. Lindeman and son Charles purchased the bakery and restaurant business from Donaldson and have continued it as the only remaining business in Polo being operated by the same family in one location.

In 1913 the Lindemans purchased the old frame building and in 1915 moved it to make room for the construction of a new structure which now stands on the old site. A. F. Lindeman, founder of the business and father of Henry, Fred and Miss Josephine Lindeman, passed away in 1926. Charles Lindeman, who was in partnership with his father at the time of purchase, is now pastor of the Shottok Avenue Methodist church, Oakland, Calif.

Polo National Bank

Business men and residents of Polo as well as farmers of the vicinity, are ably served by the Polo National bank, an institution housing in an impressive two-story building on West Mason street. In a statement of condition published at the end of last year the bank listed its total deposits at $707,755.88, with total resources at $770,053.30. The bank is a member of the federal reserve system and the federal deposit insurance corporation. Officers include Henry I. Stahler as president, Allen J. Hersch, vice-president, Will T. is housed in a remodeled building and employs about 180 persons. This is Polo's infant industry, having started operation only last October.

The Pine Crest cheese factory, located about three miles east of the city, is now turning out 14,000 pounds of milk per day and in the summer increases this output to 25,000 pounds. Here six Swiss a day are made regularly.

The Polo Co-operative Creamery company, of which Charles Trump is president, reported receipts for 1937 as $177,547.94, and assets at $34,370.41.

Makes Fireworks

J. J. Wilke reserves the distinction of putting out the largest fireworks catalogue in the entire United States. Mr. Wilke makes his own holiday explosives at his place about one mile south of town. In the summer he employs several more men in an extremely busy season.

Dr. L. M. Griffin, Dr. L. R. McDonald, Dr. C. R. Brigham, Dr. W. B. Donaldson and Dr. Paul Cable, oculist, are the men who guard the health and well being of the citizens. In this occupation they are assisted by the work of the dentists, Dr. Ted Thomas, Dr. J. H. Seise and Dr. F. L. Markle.

Legal matters in this Ogle county town are handled through Attorneys Robert M. Brand, Harry Typer and O. T. Runnels.

The modern day picture of Polo will be continued in a forthcoming installment in the Telegraph along with stories of Polo's notable citizens and interesting people.

Boudreau Turns Down Pro Career While In School

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Professional basketball—even for a consideration of $100 a game—apparently won't interest Louis Boudreau until his college career is completed.

Athletic Director Wendell S. Wilson of the University of Illinois said yesterday the Illini basketball captain was "unwilling to let anything interfere with his determination to obtain his degree next year."

Wilson said a pro basketball offer of $1500 for 15 games was made to Boudreau by Ed Ciesar of the Whiting, Ind., professional team, which includes such former Big Ten conference players as Johnny Woodin of Purdue, Bill Haarlow of Chicago and Ken Gunning of Indiana.

Three weeks ago the Big Ten faculty board barred Boudreau from further competition this season because of a verbal agreement to play with the Cleveland Indian baseball club after his graduation. In return for the agreement a sum of money was paid to his mother.

DRY LAND SLEIGHS

The canopied sleighs which guide so smoothly over the polished cobblestones of Funchal, Madeira, were devised by a British resident whose wife could not ride horseback and who was too ill to use a palanquin or hammock. Tourists in those Portuguese Atlantic islands prefer the sleighs to speedier modern motor cars.

IDEAL CLUB MET WEDNESDAY

Members of the Ideal club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George W. Smith on Boyd street. Members responded to the roll call by naming famous persons born during month of February. A book review was given by Mrs. O. F. Goeke which proved very interesting. She reviewed the book, "My Inevitable Aunt," by Dorothea Brande, who incidentally is authoress of that very popular book, "Wake Up and Live." During the social hour the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Flossie Kreitzer, served delicious refreshments. Miss Kreitzer has just returned from a four months stay at San Antonio. She added to the enjoyment of the afternoon by showing views of that ideal winter resort.

CHRISTIAN MEN WILL GIVE BANQUET

The Men's class of the Christian church have announced their annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet for next Tuesday night at 6:30. The Bible school orchestra will give a half hour concert beginning at 6:00. A special attraction will be a two-reel picture upon highway safety presented by J. R. Palmer, of the highway department and a lecture upon safety by Police Officer Max V. Armstrong. Charles William Schuler will toast the fathers and A. B. Barnett will toast the sons. Officer Harry C. Jones will sing. As in the past the banquet will be served by the ladies of the Upstreamers Class.

ANNIVERSARY IS HONORED

The twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mangano of Sterling was honored last night when members of the family surprised them with a dinner party. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Eric Gerdes, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kruk and sons Bob and Bill and Mrs. Anna Greise of Dixon and Cyrus Mangano of Sterling. After dinner games were played.

W. H. M. S. Meeting At Hopkins Home

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Phillip Hopkins. The president, Mrs. W. E. Whitson, presided. The opening song was "Jesus Calls Us" with Mrs. B. R. Jacobson at the piano. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. J. Randall and were very impressive. The subject was "Paul's Trip to Europe." Mrs. Howard Buxton led in prayer, all joining in the Lord's Prayer. After transacting the routine business of the society the members were favored with a solo by Mrs. Myrtle George. She very beautifully sang, "Not a Sparrow Falteth." Mrs. Jacobson accompanied at the piano. Mrs. J. W. Cadie very ably presented the study chapter. Thirty-eight members enjoyed the hospitality of the Hopkins home. Several new members were present and were welcomed. The very enjoyable meeting was closed by all repeating the Mizpah.

Entertain Teachers At A "Kid's Party"

A very enjoyable Valentine party was held at the Nachusa Lutheran orphanage Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. The South Dixon group of teachers was entertained by the Nachusa Reading Circle at a "kid's party." Twenty-eight were present.

The main feature of the evening was a "district school" conducted by Lella Seavey with several assistant professors. The "kids" tried every prank they had ever seen performed by their own pupils.

Several other games were played after which the guests were invited to prettily decorated tables. Decorations and refreshments were in keeping with Valentine day.

ANNUAL MARDI GRAS DANCE

Plans are now being made for the annual Mardi Gras dancing party to be held March 1 at St. Mary's hall. This pre-Lenten affair has for many years been one of the season's gayest events. Arrangements are being made for an out-of-town orchestra and complete details will be announced later.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF LADIES AID TO MEET

A meeting of the executive committee of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will be held at the church Monday afternoon at 2:30. Urgent business is to be transacted and all members of the society are urged to be present.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO MEET

The Dixon League of Women Voters will meet Saturday afternoon, Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. John Devine. This meeting is in charge of the "Department of Legal Status" and Sheriff Ward T. Miller will be the speaker of the afternoon.

O. E. S. PARLOR CLUB GUEST DAY LUNCHEON

Bows on Epaulet Shoulders Add Gay Charm to Dress

BY CAROL DAY

NO need to point to the youthful epaulet shoulder on Pattern 8123 to find its first claim to charm. The bows poised on each shoulder and on the front of the bodice are quite gay and new. The deep yoke back and front, reaching to the waistline, gives a long, wide look to the bodice that is kind to the figure. The skirt flares slightly below the narrow waistline. As a dress for daytime wear, for business and school it can be made up in thin wool, in printed crepe or one of the new cottons. Another attractive feature is that the model is definitely styled for individuality.

Even if you are a beginner in sewing you can make this dress with confidence. The pattern includes a complete and detailed sew chart that simplifies every step.

Pattern 8123 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 and 40. Size 14 requires 3 5/8 yards of 35 or 39 inch material plus 2 1/2 yards of ribbon for the bows. 2 1/2 yards of bias fold required to trim yoke and sleeves as pictured. The new SPRING AND SUMMER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Spring and Summer Pattern Book—25 cents. Book alone—15 cents.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c in COIN, your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE to TODAY'S PATTERN BUREAU, 11 STERLING PL., BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Real Need for New Buildings Chanute Field

Washington, Feb. 18—(AP)—Representative Rigney (D-Ill.) asked a House sub-committee today to appropriate $2,075,000 for constructing new building at the Air Corps technical school, Chanute Field, Ill.

Rigney said radio equipment and costly machinery were being damaged because the roofs of present structures were leaking and that airplanes had to be left standing out in bad weather for want of hangars.

The appropriation was recommended by President Roosevelt in the budget submitted to Congress.

Rigney told Chairman Snyder (D-Pa.) and the other sub-committee members that he inspected the school's facilities and found that there was "a very real need" for an appropriation.

In spite of the fact that liberal quantities of paint have been spread and a number of props have been nailed in place to prevent collapse, the buildings are in a deplorable condition," he said.

"It is remarkable to me that the high-calibre personnel attracted by the courses offered at the school are willing to endure such poor housing facilities."

He said the proposed appropriation would provide a mess hall and barracks, a central heating plant and some school buildings, according to war department estimates.

SEVEN TRAPPED IN ANTHRACITE MINE RESCUED

Eighth Dead; His Body Found in Pool Buried In Debris

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 18—(AP)—Seven of eight men trapped by a rush of water in an anthracite mine at nearby Jeanesville were found today, uninjured. The eighth was dead.

Officials of the Lehigh Valley Company said the dead man was Paul Kuritz, 40, of Hazleton.

Rescuers pushing through tons of debris during the night found his body buried in mud piled up by water that rushed into the mine yesterday from a pool left as a result of surface mining.

The others were safe in a "rock hole" high above the reach of the waters.

All said they were uninjured and "felt fine." They said they would go home and not to a hospital.

Two men rode to safety yesterday on the face of the wall of water which deluged the mine.

One of them, Bernard McAlarney, said:

"I had just fired off two sticks of dynamite to make a hitch in the bottom rock for a set of timber."

Then the deluge came.

It poured down with a roar from a break in the top of the mine. It rushed through the tunnels. It rose toward the roof. The swirling flood bore McAlarney, a miner, and George D. Schutter, assistant superintendent, both of Hazleton, to a point of safety.

Then the waters subsided, falling away through the mine's natural drainage system.

McAlarney and Schutter hurried to the surface—drenched but uninjured. They gave the alarm, then returned to the scene of the flood, 500 feet underground, with a hastily-recruited rescue squad.

CONCERNING SHOES

The present fashion of shoes was introduced into England in 1633. In the 9th and 10th centuries the greatest of European princes wore wooden shoes. In the reign of Richard II, shoes were of such absurd length as to require support by being tied to the knees with chains.

In 1463, Parliament took the matter in hand and passed an act forbidding shoes with spikes more than 2 inches in length being worn and manufactured.

MONEY PLENTIFUL

During 1937, British purchases of food, drink and tobacco from abroad were considerably higher, due, according to a government report, to increased purchasing power of industrial workers.

ENGLISH PROF IN POLITICS

Former Novelist Is Now Candidate For the Legislature

Chicago, Feb. 18—(AP)—James Weber Linn, 61-year-old University of Chicago English professor, novelist and former newspaper columnist, jumped from campus to politics today.

He became a Democratic candidate for the state legislature with the observation: "It seems to me as natural for a novelist, as an observer of the human scene, and a teacher, as a student of society, to go into politics as it is for a duck to hunt water to swim in."

Linn, nephew of the late Jane Addams, was promised the backing of the faction headed by Governor Henry Horner against the rival legislative slate of the strong Chicago Democratic organization led by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman P. A. Nash.

Never before a candidate for elective office, Linn said he was "not absolutely naive" in politics. He took the stump in the presidential campaigns of Wilson, Smith and both Roosevelts.

Linn followed an Illinois precedent

MOST COLORFUL OF JURISTS IN CHICAGO DEAD

Heart Ailment Is Fatal to Judge Joseph B. David in Night

Chicago, Feb. 18—(AP)—Judge Joseph B. David, veteran of more than two decades on Superior and Criminal court benches, and often called Chicago's most colorful jurist, died last night of heart disease. He was 74 years old and had been confined for five months.

Judge David had retired for the night when he suddenly suffered a relapse. Death occurred a few minutes after the arrival of his physician.

Judge David, author of startling courtroom remarks that made him the center of controversies, collapsed with a heart ailment September 28, was taken to a hospital and placed under an oxygen tent. He was removed later to the home of Mrs. Milton R. Jonas, one of his four children.

Against Dry Law

A foe of prohibition and easy divorces during his 52 years as a lawyer and 21 as a judge, the jurist last year unearthed a 67-year-old decision to support his personal fight to keep Chicago from becoming a "second Reno." Such states as Nevada "that ask for only six weeks residence for the filing of a suit for divorce should be kicked out of the Union," he opined.

Earlier he declared invalid a new law forbidding the naming of co-respondents in cases of marital misconduct. "Nonsensical, idiotic, invalid and void" and usurpation of the judiciary's power by a legislature that "is going crazy," is how he put it.

He was the author of the Illinois law forbidding common law marriages.

Four Involved In Strike Jailed For Creating Disorder

Sioux Falls, S. D., Feb. 18—(AP)—Four men involved in a strike of union coal truck drivers were held in jail on open charges after police battled the quartet late Thursday in the first open clash between officers and striking drivers, since the strike began three weeks ago.

Police Chief C. J. Rufer said felony charges might be filed against some of those in custody. They were arrested after a squad of police, answering a trouble call, said they saw the group attack two Fritzgibbon Fuel Company employees.

Booked at police headquarters were Floyd Province, Rex Smelser, John Cervoid and Phil Johnson.

GOOD THOUGHTS
Happiness is a great love and much serving.
—Olive Schreiner

Rouse to some work of high and holy love,
And thou an angel's happiness shall know.
—Carlos Wilcox

It is a great dishonor to religion to imagine that it is an enemy to mirth and cheerfulness, and a severe extractor of pensive looks and solemn faces.
—Walter Scott

Naught so enriches and makes joyous our lives as the constant endeavour to enrich and make joyous the lives of others.
—Charles M. Jay

Happiness consists in being and in doing good; only what God gives, and what we give ourselves and others through His tenure, confers happiness.

Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

DIXON GOSPEL TABERNACLE
Fifth and Ottawa
Many folks considered the services of last Sunday to be the greatest held in the tabernacle thus far. The building was nearly filled and many were there for the first time. It is anticipated that the services held at the tabernacle next Sunday are to be even greater than those of the past.

Sunday at 1:30 p. m. the Sunday school which is constantly increasing in number will meet. A contest is being put on at the present time between the "Reds" and the "Blues." Evangelist Sherman Miller is captain of the "Reds." Helen Ward is captain of the "Blues." Your presence will count much in this contest, in which everyone is welcome.

At 2:30 p. m. the afternoon worship. Evangelist Miller speaks on the Heavenly subject, "Heaven—What? When? Where? Will We Know Each Other and Be Related? Will We Be Occupied? What Did Paul Mean When He Said, 'Third Heaven'?"

Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m. the young people meet and discuss "How to be an Effective Soul Winner."

Also at 6:30 p. m. the Junior League meets under the supervision of Helen Ward.
At 7:30 p. m. the orchestra opens another great Evangelistic service. You will enjoy the vocal and instrumental numbers by various talented musicians. After which Evangelist Miller will vigorously speak on the subject "Twenty-five Miles from Hell. Who's There?"
Do not forget the special program at the tabernacle this evening. Lance Lathan and his white shirt brigade, beginning at 7:30 p. m. You are welcome to attend one and all of the above services.

BETHEL U. E. CHURCH
"The Growing Church"

ST. LUKE'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH
B. Norman Burke, Rector
Sexagesima Sunday.
8:00 a. m. Holy Communion.
9:30 a. m. Church school.
10:45 a. m. Choral Eucharist and sermon.
7:30 p. m. illustrated address on the Washington Cathedral.
One result of worship is that it helps to know ourselves. We moderns do not know ourselves. One of the most suggestive books of our time is entitled "Man the Unknown." We know enough about metals and gases to make swift and durable automobiles. But we do not know enough about men to keep drivers from drunkenness, speed-insanity, and reckless disregard of life and property. The root of most modern problems is in man's ignorance of himself. Where, if not in worship, shall we learn more about ourselves? In the presence of God, souls stand naked, and for the first time we see ourselves as we actually are; our sins, our weaknesses, and also our kinship to the Divine. Thus, only in the act of worship, men and women on their knees before God, will our world find redemption.

Leading Money Winner Along Winter Golf Trail

New Orleans, La., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Money player John Revolta, his pockets jingling with souvenirs from California's "gold coast," started out today the split-haired favorite in the $5,000 Crescent City open golf tournament.

Revolta, leading money winner along the winter golf trail that started on the Pacific coast, went on a tour of the windswept city park course yesterday in the pro-amateur event and stepped off the 18th green with a new course record—67, five under par.

Sammy Snead, the West Virginia bomber, drove in late in the afternoon from the Pacific coast and filed his entry. One burst of rain, however, would cause him to move homeward, he grinned. Dull clouds hung over the course.

"I never played through two weeks of golf under such conditions as we had on the coast," said Snead. "And I'm going on home tomorrow if it starts up again."

Dapper Ky Laffoon of Chicago, toast of the circuit a few seasons back, put up the storm warning with a fancy round in the pro-amateur which enabled him to win the event with his partner, Walker Cupper Freddie Haas of New Orleans. The dark, chunky professional beat par by two strokes and played flawlessly in recording a 65 best ball with Haas.

One result of worship is that it helps to know ourselves. We moderns do not know ourselves. One of the most suggestive books of our time is entitled "Man the Unknown." We know enough about metals and gases to make swift and durable automobiles. But we do not know enough about men to keep drivers from drunkenness, speed-insanity, and reckless disregard of life and property. The root of most modern problems is in man's ignorance of himself. Where, if not in worship, shall we learn more about ourselves? In the presence of God, souls stand naked, and for the first time we see ourselves as we actually are; our sins, our weaknesses, and also our kinship to the Divine. Thus, only in the act of worship, men and women on their knees before God, will our world find redemption.

Today's News From Neighboring Communities

MOUNT MORRIS DOINGS

Happenings in Ogle County City Reported for The Telegraph by Mrs. Pauline Yoe.

Hearts and darts were in plentiful profusion this week as hostesses invited many guests to "worship" at the shrine of Saint Valentine.

On Monday evening Mrs. Dale Lizer had as her guests the Meses, Rolfe Ommen, Jess Smith, Frank Hilger, Maurice Samsel, Wendell Schrader, Axel Johnston, John Blakley, Mark Crawford, Gerald Hough, Darrell Toms, John Buck, Paul Barnhizer, Gerald Powers, Harold Knodle, Donovan Mills, Paul Boyle, Murray Du Mont, Harold Pearce, Cameron Findlay and Dwight Sharer. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. Hough, Mrs. Knodle and Mrs. Boyle.

Last Saturday Phyllis, not to be outdone by her mother, gave a Valentine party for a number of her friends. Phyllis' guests were Jean and Mildred Lingle, Patsy Hilger, Mildred Rouse, Dorothy Munn, Harold Palmer, Wesley Reed, Orville McCoy, Bobby Kent, Christy Krug and her brother Ronald.

One can't say that it was a Democratic political move, instead it was a typical Mary Wishard inspiration—to remember the "forgotten woman." In place of high and low prizes she decided to reward those nearest the median score and so Miss Beatrice Horton and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell went home with the bouquets. Mary used white tapers and red cupids to decorate her table for the refreshments she served after the play. Other guests were Miss Mary McColl, Miss Edna Coulson, Mrs. Hershey James, Mrs. Paul Yoe and Mrs. A. L. Kirby.

The younger set enjoyed an evening of games at the home of Miss Jean Smith, daughter of the Jess Smiths, on Tuesday evening. Present were the girls of the Sub Deb club who are, Jean Davison, Mary Bea Edson, Carroll Pittenger, Harriet Weller, Dorothy Spiker and Pauline McHenry. Their guests were Bob Robinson, Johnny Yoe, Bryant Zimmerman, Eddie Webster, Earl Mueller, Richard McNett and Lawrence Eateringer.

The very-much-young set were guests of Evelyn Wible last Friday evening at a party. The evening began with a taffy pull and gave these girls and boys plenty of energy to carry out a scavenger hunt. When they returned to Evelyn's home there was plenty of pink frosting on the cake to make this hearty party a complete success. Guests were Jean Lingle, Patsy Hilger, Mildred Lingle, Mildred Rouse, Lois Watt, Dorothy Nunn, Wesley Reed, Phyllis Ballard, Christy Krug, Bob Kent, Orville McCoy and Harold Palmer.

Mrs. Charles Lamb is hostess to the members of the Chere Amie club at Kable Inn this afternoon. Her guests will be the Meses, Russell Lamb (Oregon), Hugh Allen, Harry Kable, Harvey Long, Alva Booth, William Prugh and Paul Kent.

Dr. Harry M. Gage and William Berger, president and field secretary of Coe college, were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Schrader on Wednesday. Miss Nelle Bishop of the high school faculty also was present.

Mrs. Tom Wilson entertained her bridge club members on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. William Many and the children accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clark Williams drove to Elgin on Thursday afternoon to be present at the church dinner given by the Epworth Methodist church there. Honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Alva Booth, Mr. and Mrs. William Prugh were hosts at a pot luck party at their Brayton Road home, Saturday evening. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Small, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Long, Warren Bendby and Dr. Ted Thomas.

Professor and Mrs. Ira R. Hendrickson were dinner guests of the Leo Pipers in Byron Monday evening previous to his address before the P-T-A. Mrs. Piper will be remembered as the former Miss Helen Johnson who taught in the local high school several years ago being a member of Mr. Hendrickson's first faculty.

Mrs. John Price of Oregon, who is American citizenship chairman for the 13th district of the Federated Women's clubs, will give a talk over station WROK Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock during the "Woman of the Hour" program.

The guests of Mrs. Donald Reidl played 500 on Monday evening and prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Edson and Mrs. Harold Miller. A valentine motif was used in the decorations for the luncheon served in the late evening. Other guests were the Mesdames Frank Dougherty, A. J. Lillyquest, Boyd Stouffer, Clifford Newcomer, Z. V. Wyatt, Dallas Baker, Harry Schmucker, August Hanke and Clint Frawert.

Twenty-five young people of the Church of the Brethren gathered at the home of the Ralph Thomases on Monday evening for a Valentine party. The hours were spent playing games after which refreshments were served.

A musical program deserving of more than passing notice because it was the debut of two youthful artists of Mt. Morris, was presented at the Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon before members of the Current Events club and invited guests.

The musicianship of Bryant Zimmerman and Jimmie Asp reflects more than ordinary musical talent and ability, as well as thorough and soundly authentic training. With mastery skill these young prodigies are being trained to avoid the obstacles which abundantly obstruct the pathway to correct playing; and fortunate, indeed, are they to have as their guide and instructor one so able as Dolores Huffman.

Mrs. Huffman is deserving of a further word of commendation for the program selected for her gifted students. Jimmie and Bryant each played a Bach number as representative of the first or "Early" period. These were followed by three of the ever popular and well-known Chopin preludes rendered by Bryant and three of the "Five Waltzes for the Piano" by Brahms as interpreted by Jimmie. Also in this second or "Romantic" era was included Edward Grieg. After a brief explanation of the story of the "Peer Gynt Suite" the boys played three of the most popular numbers: "Hall of the Mountain King," "Asa's Death," and "Anitra's Dance." The last or "Modern" era was represented by Jimmie's rendition of Macdowell's "Scotch Poem" and Bryant's "Humoresque" by Rachmaninoff.

The boys are deserving of special mention for their unusually fine interpretative ability. Seldom do such young students display this art. It is indeed difficult to realize after hearing the above program that Jimmie has been studying for a period of but three and a half years. However, he displays a musicianship far more mature than his years of study would indicate.

Bryant, with a few more years of study to his credit, plays with the precision, ease and technique of one of advanced years. We in Mt. Morris may well feel proud of our youthful artists and their instructor.

As a fitting finale to their recital the boys played the well known "Marche Militaire" by Franz Schubert in duet form. As an encore (just to prove they have not gone completely "long-haired" we think) they gave a very clever and lively arrangement of the popular "Turkey in the Straw."

The annual February dinner for the members of the Typographical Auxiliary will be held Monday evening in Kable Inn. Following dinner the ladies will amuse themselves with a few games of "42" and bridge.

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Kenesaw Landis of Polo and Miss Helena Horst delightfully entertained at a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Walter Ubben (Erna Stengel) at the John Stengel home.

The bride received many lovely gifts which were presented her in the way of a "second honeymoon" via toy electric train.

After spending the afternoon playing games, the twenty-four guests were served refreshments.

This is the fourth shower for Mrs. Ubben. The Helping Hand club and threshing crew from the same neighborhood had a charivari and shower several weeks ago for the young bride and groom. The following Wednesday night a large group of relatives and neighbors presented them with a shower of miscellaneous gifts, and last Friday night the Busy Bee club presented them with another shower of gifts.

Miss Thelma Mott will be hostess to the members of the Mission Circle on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lulu Buss. Miss Frances Sawyer will lead the worship service and Miss Betty McDaniels will be in charge of the program.

Next Monday afternoon the Woman's Missionary society will meet at the parsonage with Mrs. N. E. Bolinger as hostess. Mrs. Harold Floren will review two chapters in the study book, "Mecca and Beyond."

Mrs. James Watt will tell of the English Coronation before the members of the Glad Hand society when they meet in the church parlors on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Mae Coffman, Miss Hazel Roller and Mrs. D. E. Thompson will be hostesses.

On Wednesday evening a large number of church members and friends met in the church for "family night." Rev. Rubenstein of Philadelphia, secretary of the inter-area committee of the board of American Missions gave the address of the evening.

When the Fellowship society members of the Brethren church meet at the W. E. West home on Wednesday evening they will be treated to a delightful musical program arranged by Mrs. Mose Diehl who also will give several piano selections. Others on the program will be Mrs. Donald Sweet of the high school faculty, Mrs. A. E. Hecker and Mrs. Dan Miller in duets. Mrs. Theodore Thomas will sing as will the girls' trio, Helen Barnhizer, Ruth Meeker and Bernice Chambers. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Nurse Reports 265 T. B. Cases in Ogle

By Wm. E. Ziegenfuss

Miss Helen Stonick, R. N., of the Ogle County Tuberculosis association states that there are 265 cases of tuberculosis in the county at the present time. Of this number, some active and inactive, 29 are pulmonary cases; 9 gland cases; 5 bone and other forms; 13 suspects and 142 contacts. All patients having tuberculosis and needing medical care and rest for a period of time, are being admitted to the Rockford Municipal Sanitarium instead of the Ottawa Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Ottawa.

Plans are also being made to conduct an immunization for diphtheria and small pox at the Leaf River and Forreston schools, in the near future.

The office of the Ogle County Tuberculosis association has received $1752.59 during the past few months from the sale of Christmas seals. Miss Stonick requests that if there are any persons who have not as yet sent in their remittance to this worthy cause, and would care to do so, may leave the same at the office of Ogle County Tuberculosis association.

All pupils of the grade schools of Mt. Morris will be given examinations for symptoms of scarlet fever within the next few days.

U. S. HAS A MONOPOLY

ON GLAMOR GIRLS London—(AP)—When it comes to glamor, the American girl has her English cousin backed clear off the map.

That's the conclusion of a British impressario who made a fruitless search of the provinces for 14 English beauties who would match the "high standard" of the American glamor girls he has been importing for a Mayfair night club.

The labor ministry told him he would have to produce a show with English girls before he brought in any more Americans. So he began a quest for "fresh-faced" girls from the country.

When that failed, he came back to London. And out of 300 girls interviewed here he has found one who will do. But she was born in Scotland.

DONATION TO U. OF C.

Chicago—(AP)—Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, announced that Mrs. Marion R. Stern, New York, had given the institution $75,000 to establish a fund for educational purposes. He said she already had authorized the use of $5,000 for scholarships to be awarded to needy and deserving students.

Mr. Christopher Wren was the most eminent English architect of the 17th century.

This is W. M. S. self-denial week. Let all the members of the society practice self-denial in the Reynolds congregation. Next Sunday morning there will be a Missionary day prayer program, at the regular worship hour. There will be special music and the program committee consists of Mrs. Helen Floto, Mrs. Rosa Ewald and Mrs. Anna Vogeler. There should be a good offering for missions next Sunday.

Next week in the Reynolds church on Friday evening at 7:30 the last quarterly conference session will be held and at Scarboro on Saturday evening. District Superintendent J. C. Schaefer will conduct the conferences. Let all members of both churches make an honest effort to be present.

Special revival meetings will be held in the Reynolds church, beginning Sunday, March 6. The pastor is arranging with the neighboring Evangelical pastors to give assistance in these meetings. Lent begins March 2 so this meeting comes at a time when Christians of all denominations should be making sacrifices for the Lord Jesus.

Opera Reviewed At Bryant Club

Guest night was observed by the Bryant club on Wednesday evening when Mrs. A. N. Bolz and Miss Roodhouse entertained 15 guests and 14 members at Mrs. Bolz's home. A musical program was given by Mrs. Helen Wheeler, Mrs. Harry Bolz and Miss Frances McKinney. The opera "Faust" by Gounod was reviewed. Miss McKinney read the story, Mrs. Wheeler was the accompanist and Mrs. Bolz the soloist. Mrs. Wheeler gave the instrumental solos, the waltz and "Soldiers Chorus."

The guests were Miss Claribelle Cully, Mrs. Mildred Lauritzen, Mrs. Street, Miss Cora Vincent, Mrs. A. P. Shearburn, Miss Frances Bailey, Mrs. Rosa Meisenheimer, Mrs. Alice Nussle, Mrs. May Schoaf, Miss Marion Kerchner, Mrs. Florence Gonigam, Mrs. Alice Craig, Mrs. Bess Abraham, Mrs. I. M. White and Mrs. Clifford Hill. Valentine games were played and the delicious refreshments were in keeping with the season.

Mrs. Sara Major Entertains Aia

The Junior Aid of the Christian church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sara Major at 2 o'clock. Twenty-one members and three guests responded to roll call with quotations on Lincoln and Washington. Mrs. Roy Wolfe had charge of the devotions and read the 25th Psalm for the Scripture lesson. The opening song was "Wonderful Words of Love." The devotions were closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Leona Clark, the president, conducted a short business meeting. The entertainment committee, Mrs. Max Wallis and Mrs. Ralph Crane, provided plenty of amusement with guessing games. A pretty patriotic lunch was served, cream puffs topped with flags, sandwiches

ADAMICK AND THOMAS MEET IN 10-ROUNDER

Experts Puzzled As Former Seems Only Green Prospect

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—At a late hour today, nobody had been found willing to hazard a guess on the purpose, not to mention the outcome, of tonight's 10-round duel between Jimmy Adamick, the kid from Detroit, and bouncing Harry Thomas.

The whole affair had everybody so puzzled that many intended to go and see for themselves, the expectation being that around $25,000 worth would turn up at Madison Square Garden. The fact that Doc Kearns, the boy man of boxing, was going to be in Adamick's corner, undoubtedly added to the popular interest.

Ever since the strident voice of the doctor was heard clear from Detroit proclaiming the unqualified greatness of his newest protegee, the ears of those closest to boxing have been perked up. It was ordained from the first that Kearns and Adamick would make their way east eventually, and here they are.

Looks Unskilled
Adamick, in his gymnasium workouts, looks only like a willing but unskilled young fighter, with a good punch when it lands. The original odds, mostly on Kearns, say so, were 3 to 1 that the Michigan terror would slam Thomas about worse than Max Schmeling did some months ago.

Eut as the amazement grew at Adamick's ineptitude, the boys began putting padlocks on their money pockets, having decided it would be better not to bet at all, but just to wait and see.
The winner has been "signed" to give Joe Louis a tune-up in April. The only attraction in a Thomas-Louis classic, would be to see whether Joe could knock Harry down more times than Schmeling did, which was eight by official count.

Hicks Rumored Number One Choice, Athletic Commission Vacancy

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Leonard Hicks, Chicago sportsman and hotel operator, was reported today to be a number one choice to fill the Illinois state athletic commission vacancy left by the death recently of George Getz.
Gov. Henry Horner, who probably will not make an appointment to the commission before next month, was reported to favor Hicks. Carl Stockholm, former six-day bicycle rider, now in business in Chicago, also was mentioned as a possibility for the place.

GILES FIXING UP REDS' SPRING TRAINING CAMP

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Warren Giles, a short baldish man who looks more like a banker than the No. 1 front office man of the Cincinnati Reds, arrived today and quietly went about the business of preparing the spring training camp for the club he represents.

"Anything can and probably will happen in the National league race this year," he said.
"But it looks like a four-club race for the pennant. New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh are too strong for the second division clubs. The Giants will be tough again. So will the Cardinals and the Pirates."

As to his own club, which dwell in the cellar most of the season, Giles declared:
"We will be stronger this year. I'm sure. Bill McKechnie is one of the smartest men in baseball. I think we'll make a strong bid for fifth."

He was unable to explain the Reds' nose dive last year.
"It was just one of those things. Everything went wrong. I don't believe the players themselves know I listened to all sorts of explana-

Over 2000 Attend Semi-Final Golden Gloves Contests at Sterling

McReynolds Wins; To Enter District Final Bouts

About 300 Dixonites mingled with the capacity crowd of over 2000 at the Sterling Coliseum last evening to witness the semi-final bouts in the Rockford district of the annual Golden Gloves tournament and all were accorded an evening of rare entertainment with plenty of action in the single ring in which more than a score of battles were fought. The winners of last night's bouts will appear in the district finals at Rockford next week.

To the Dixon fans, one of the most outstanding bouts was the one in which Elwood "Kid" McReynolds, former local colored football hero, now fighting under the colors of a Rockford gym, carried the fighting to win a well merited decision over a slugging, boring opponent, Virgil McGinnis of Elgin. This was the first bout in the 147 pound class in the senior semi-finals, in which McReynolds displayed excellent form.

Winners of last evening's bouts will appear in the district finals at the Shrine Temple in Rockford next Wednesday evening when the Rockford district team will be decided from the winners in the several classes. The results of last evening's semi-finals at Sterling were as follows:

Novice Semi-Finals
Charles Trainer, Elgin, won decision over Jimmy Casper, Freeport, 113 pounds.

Louis Peabody, Sterling, won decision over Ernie Hoffman, Rockford, 118 pounds.

Luke Alfano, Rockford, won decision over Clifford Lathrop, Elgin, 126 pounds.

Elton Floyd, Freeport, won decision over William DeBarre, Sterling, 126 pounds.

John Contoise, Elgin, won decision over Mickey Losberger, Freeport, 135 pounds.

Bob Steubinger, Sterling, won decision over Joe McKenna, Rockford, 135 pounds.

William O'Neal, Freeport won decision over Arthur Schumm, Elgin, 147 pounds.

Jimmy Porder, Sterling, won decision over Tony Sartino, Rockford, 147 pounds.

Don Anderson, Elgin, won decision over Henry Kidd, Freeport, 160 pounds.

Bernal Donaldson, Sterling, won decision over Max Ashwill, Rockford, 160 pounds.

Columbus Mitchell, Freeport, won decision over Harry Poiney, Rockford, 175 pounds.

Harold Fuim, Rockford, won by forfeit from James Henry, Freeport, heavyweight.

Senior Semi-Finals
William Marshall, Rockford, won from Vern Fairchild, Elgin, 112 pound class, Marshall landing blow at belt in third round which sent Fairchild to canvas.

Sammy Stinson, Sterling knocked out David Reed, Freeport, in second round, 112 pounds.

William Sangster, Aurora, won decision over Andy Duncan, Sterling, 118 pounds.

Francis Smith, Aurora won decision over Eddie Sangster, Rockford, 126 pounds.

Joe Lotta, Freeport, knocked out Dick Scholl, Sterling in second round, 135 pounds.

Elwood McReynolds, Rockford, won decision over Virgil McGinnis, Elgin, 147 pounds.

Ed Schindwein, Sterling, won decision over Paul Hess, Freeport, 147 pounds.

Luther Brent, Elgin, won decision over Eddie Martinis, Rockford, 160 pounds.

William Duncan, Elgin, won decision over Altus Allen, Freeport, 175 pounds.

Linto Swellhead" Guerrie, Sterling, won decision over Claude Cowan, Rockford, 175 pounds.

William Cowan, Elgin, knocked out James Radford, Stockton, third round, heavyweight bout.

MT. MORRIS' BIG LEAGUER LEAVES FOR SPRING CAMP

(Telegraph Sports Service)

Mt. Morris, February 18.—Nelson Potter, northern Illinois' only representative in major league baseball at the present time, will leave for the spring training camp of the Philadelphia Athletics at Lake Charles, La., Saturday.

There, under the watchful eye of Connie Mack, who drafted the local youth from the Columbus club of the American Association last fall, Nelson will attempt to win a starting assignment on the Athletics' pitching staff for the coming summer's campaign. Although Lake Charles is given as the site of the Athletics' training camp, the club will be there for only a few weeks before opening a heavy schedule of exhibition games in Florida and other southern states.

Rigorous exercise during the past several months and strict adherence to training rules have kept Nelson in splendid physical condition. Daily workouts at the community gymnasium combined with long hours in the open, has tended to keep his weight down, and at 190 pounds he is virtually in shape for the opening of the season.

For several weeks he has been exercising his arm and reports it in excellent condition, so good in fact that it requires considerable restraint to refrain from cutting loose with his curve or "hook."

Much of the time he has spent out of doors has been devoted to hunting and trapping, at which he has been most successful, his bag including one red and three grey foxes.

The contract he received from Manager Mack recently was satisfactory in every way, calling for a nice increase in salary, and was signed promptly and returned. In this connection it might be noted that his salary starts at the opening of the season, but all expenses during the training period are paid by the club.

Nelson will leave Saturday for Lake Charles, Mrs. Potter remaining in Mt. Morris until the opening of the season when they will establish residence in Philadelphia.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Practice makes perfect, according to Coach Bill Chandler of the Marquette university basketball team who points to the 60 per cent average of his cagers on free throws as substantiation. The first five Marquette cagers in the scoring column are averaging 60 per cent or better on their free throws. Paul Sokody, center, and George Hesik, guard, are tied for the lead with 70 per cent each.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Bowling is the principal diversion of Marquette university basketball players on their trips, and ten-pin alley are the first thing they seek out when they arrive in a strange city. A hot intraquad kegling rivalry has developed several 180-200 bowlers and the Hilltoppers are prepared to challenge any other basketball team in the country to a ten-pin match.

KNACKS TACKLE BALTIC LODGE IN SECTIONAL

Open Tourney Drive Tonight; 3 Games Are Scheduled

(Telegraph Sports Service)

Mt. Morris, Feb. 18.—The independent sectional basketball tournament which is now in progress at the community gymnasium at Mt. Morris will continue on Friday night, February 18, with three more preliminary games which will be opened by Knack's Leaders (Dixon) versus Baltic Lodge (Rockford) at 7 o'clock, Steward Towners vs. the Union church (Mt. Morris) at 8 o'clock, and Ker-Wid Shoes (Freeport) vs. Community A. C. of Sterling at 9 o'clock.

The first three games which were held here on Monday night were opened with a closely contested battle between the Community gym of Mt. Morris and the Freeport Y five with the Mt. Morris team leaving the floor as victors, by a score of 35 to 29. Brant's Little Five of Rock Falls overtook the J. L. Clark team of Rockford which substituted for the Illini Indians of Freeport by a score of 39 to 16. In the third fracas the Smoke Shop of Freeport, formerly known as the Freeport Fast Freight, overwhelmed the Forrester Oilers by a score of 68 to 22.

The two remaining preliminary games will be played on Monday evening, February 21 followed by the first game in the second bracket between the Mt. Morris Community Gym team and the Smoke Shop of Freeport. The opening game Monday night will be between the Waltz Lunch of Sterling and the Ambrosius Clothing team of Rockford at 7 o'clock, followed by the Journal-Standard team from Freeport vs. the Rockford Indies at 8 o'clock.

FIRST PREP RING TOURNEY BOOKED AT MORTON HIGH

On March 18 and 19 a number of public high schools in northern Illinois will stage the first public school boxing tournament ever to be held in the state of Illinois.

The tournament will be held in the Morton high school auditorium, Cicero, under the direction of Morton's athletic director, W. P. MacLean and the boxing coach, Joseph Jachka.

Already a number of high schools have signified a desire to enter. Blue Island, Grant Community high school and Morton will be represented by a full team and a great number of schools in northern Illinois will send one or more boxers to represent by full teams and a great tournament.

This boxing meet has the sanction of the Illinois High School Athletic Assn. and will be limited to member schools. It will be conducted strictly under the rules and regulations of the Illinois High School Athletic Assn. covering interscholastic athletic contests.

Every effort will be made to safeguard the welfare of contestants. The rounds will be limited to three 1½ minute rounds with a one minute intermission. The safest possible equipment will be made available.

Morton high school has conducted boxing as an intra-mural and interscholastic sport for eight years without an injury. The school has built up an enviable reputation. Public high schools who are members of Northern Illinois High School Athletic Assn. are cordially invited to send representatives to this unique athletic meet.

Suitable medals and plaques will be awarded to the winners.

Entries of one or more contestants should be sent to Morton high school at once, with weights of contestants and state eligibility certificates.

Wynne Reported Resigning Post

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18.—(AP)—University of Kentucky students looked to President Frank L. McVey today for confirmation or denial of a report that Chet Wynne had resigned as athletic director and head football coach.

Wynne himself, a target of dissatisfied alumni for several weeks, had nothing to say.

The university athletic council meets this afternoon to receive recommendations from a special committee which has been studying proposed reorganization plans.

The committee met yesterday. If it made up its mind on any point, it evidently made up the council's mind too, for the five committee members form a majority of the nine-member council.

One source said Wynne had offered to resign for $15,000—which he

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Present day baseball salaries make even hardboiled Burleigh Grimes shudder. . . . On the train the other night he recalled that back in 1918 he led the National league pitchers with 25 victories and received exactly $1,960 for the job. . . . Here's one to paste in your hat: Bill Chandler of Marquette will be the next president of the National Basketball Coaches' association.

Page Dr. Dufoe: There are four pairs of twins on the Wise (Va.) girls' basketball team. . . . A letter with only a picture of Tommy Parr and the letters "U. S. A.," mailed from London, arrived at the New York Hippodrome yesterday. . . . Dope from the south says Clyde Castleman may not be able to pitch an inning for the Giants this year, which will be just too bad. . . . As many of you have suspected, Joe and Mike Jacobs, old cronies for years, are not just "like that" any more. . . . Reason: The Galento fade-out.

Over in Brooklyn, Larry MacPhail already has had one strike called on him for importing a crew of out-of-town assistants. . . . Miami gossip has Col. E. R. Bradley, who is gradually disposing of his horses, about ready to retire from the turf. . . . Confidentially, Joe Louis looks a little fat. . . . Four stars and a bell for Damon Runyon's new picture "A Slight Case of Murder," previewed here yesterday. . . . State police saved Frankie Genaro, former flyweight champion, from freezing to death while on a hike near Greenwood Lake, N. Y., the other day. . . . Frankie had his two small daughters with him.

Burleigh Jacobs Survives Early Tourney Rounds

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The handicappers figured young Burleigh Jacobs of Wauwatosa, Wis., would go out in the early rounds of the Championship of Golf Club Champions tournament but he still was swinging away in the semi-finals today.

Opposing him in the round of four was Richard Chapman of Greenwich, Frank Strafaci of Great Neck, N. Y., only remaining player conceded a chance to win in pre-tournament computations, was paired against William Holt of Syracuse, N. Y.

Jacobs downed Bobby Walker of Jacksonville, 4 and 3 yesterday while Chapman ousted the veteran Robert Lansdell of Hackensack, N. J., 3 and 1.

Strafaci defeated Ike Merrill of Daytona Beach, 4 and 3, and Holt won over J. L. Collins of Canton, Mass., by the same margin.

Pin Matrimony

Girls of the Vosges Mountains employ a curious method of determining if they will marry. They throw pins into a "miraculous" fountain and if a pin floats, the lucky maiden believes she will be married within a year.

would receive if he served the remaining two years his contract provides at $7500 a year.

Jurges Signs

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Cubs' holdout worries were ended today when Shortstop Bill Jurges' signed contract was received at the offices of the National League baseball club.

Terms were not revealed, but Jurges, assistant to the president, said Jurges signed the first contract offered him after refusing it once, Outfielder Frank Demaree wired acceptance of terms yesterday.

ANOTHER DIXON-STERLING CAGE CLASSIC SEEN

Two Ancient Rivals Clash In Second Game of Series

Sterling township high's uncertain basketball team which has won seven games and lost six this season will defend its home ballcourt against the invading Sharpshooters of Dixon high tonight at 7:15 P. M. in the Coliseum, hoping to duplicate its previous 14-12 victory over the locals.

Township, defending its 1937 North Central conference championship, was thrown into reverse in its first conference game against DeKalb by a 31 to 27 score and then all but slipped out of the picture by dropping a 26 to 23 decision to Rochelle. After that temporary relapse however Sterling came back and won its next two league tilts against Belvidere and Dixon. Since then the Golden have had their ups and down and will be gunning to snap the carefully built five game winning streak built up by the Purple and White lately. On its own floor Sterling will be stronger, but as the Sharpshooters have also shown definite improvement the outcome of this game cannot be predicted. A capacity house is expected to see the contest.

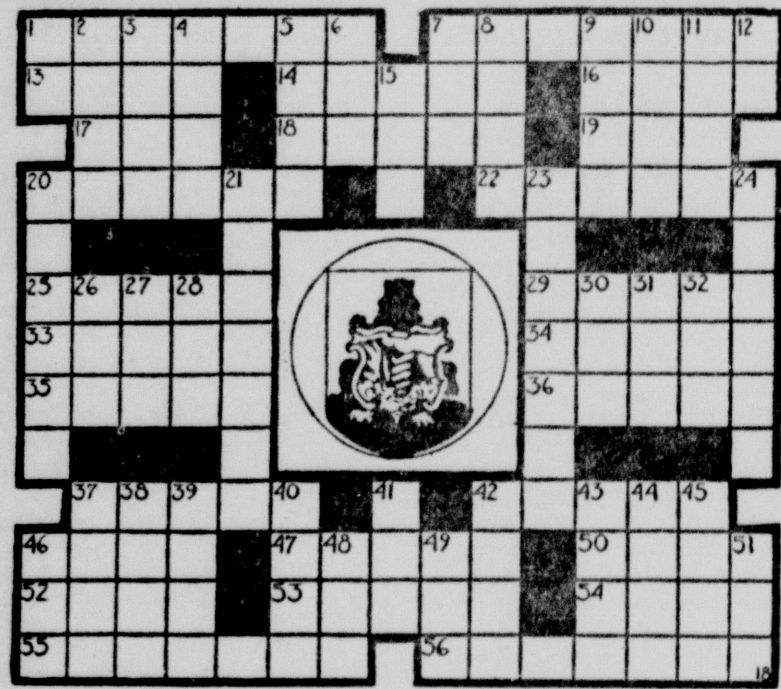

Following is Sterling's record:
Sterling 26, Clinton 24.
Sterling 22, Community 23.
Sterling 27, DeKalb 31.
Sterling 23, Rochelle 26.
Sterling 34, Rock Falls 19.
Sterling 25, Belvidere 18.
Sterling 14, Dixon 12.
Sterling 18, Community 34.
Sterling 31, Rochelle 17.
Sterling 24, Geneseo 27.<

ONE INCH OF RAIN OVER ONE ACRE OF LAND AMOUNTS TO 6,272,640 CUBIC INCHES OF WATER.

The BIG DIPPER HAS BEEN KNOWN LONGER THAN ANY OTHER STAR GROUP.

MRS. HOMER HAYWARD, FISHING IN THE BIG THOMPSON RIVER, CALIF., CAUGHT A TROUT AND AN AUTOMOBILE AT THE SAME TIME! ON WHIPPING THE FISH FROM THE STREAM, THE LINE SNARED THE WINDSHIELD OF A PASSING MOTOR CAR.

AN ACRE of ground contains 43,560 square feet. A 1-inch rain on the acre would amount to 3630 cubic feet of water and, since each cubic foot of pure water weighs approximately 62.4 pounds, the weight of this amount of water would be about 226 tons.

History of Oregon and Ogle County Continued by Telegraph's Historian

Having established John Phelps as the first white settler in the vicinity of Oregon, this chapter continues with the life and growth of the community and stories of the early settlers who were influential in the city's development.

The second house was commenced by John Phelps in the summer of 1836 and finished that fall. It was a double log house of two stories, built of hewed logs and was considered famous throughout the Rock river valley. It was finished a little more elaborately than the Jenkins cabin which was the first house and erected a short time before. Due to the fact that Phelps had started a saw mill on Pine Creek in the spring, the floors and doors of later cabins were better finished than the first.

John Harris commenced and completed another house and, being a blacksmith, he erected a shop were subscription schools and the first was taught in the winter of 1837-1838 in a small building on the Jenkins lot by Dr. Adams, a young disciple of Esculapius. In the summer and fall of 1839 the first school house was built and occupied a site on the west side of Fifth street between Washington and Jefferson streets. The building was later abandoned as a school and made into a residence by Jonas Seyster. Alfred Marks was the first teacher in that new school house.

In 1836 Edward S. Leland, later Judge Leland of Ottawa, came to Oregon and hung out his "shingle" as "attorney and counselor at law." To the best of knowledge Mr. Leland was the first lawyer to claim Oregon as a field for the practice of his profession.

First Physician
Dr. William J. Mix, who commenced compounding medicines in courts were migratory and were held at Dixon, Buffalo Grove and Oregon.

The first effort to elect county commissioners before the division of the county resulted in a victory for Dixon. John V. Gale, formerly an Oregon pioneer, wrote in his diary concerning that election:

"There was great excitement at this election. All the towns were against Oregon. A large quantity of whiskey was drunk and several fights occurred. Dixon, Grand Detour, Buffalo Grove (Polo) and Bloomington (Byron) all combined against Oregon. It was the noisiest, roughest, most exciting election ever held in the county."

Becomes County Seat
The commissioners appointed for the purpose by the state legislature on June 30, 1836 selected Oregon as the county seat and named the southeast quarter of section 4, Town have the north line of Lee county established a few miles north of the line as defined by the law creating the county, but they were not successful. Their purpose in that attempt was to remove the center of Ogle farther north and thus destroy the chances of their old rival, Oregon, from becoming the county seat.

A little incident attended the rivalry between Dixon and Oregon and their representative men, John Dixon and John Phelps.

Dixon kept a hotel which, it seems, was the most popular, if not the only hotel at that time in the embryo city. Mr. Phelps had occasion to visit Dixon one day when the county seat question was terribly agitated. He stopped at the Dixon House for dinner. Mr. Dixon, the proprietor, was absent and Mrs. Dixon did the honors of the table. During the meal she remarked to Mr. Phelps: "It is a good thing for you, Mr. Phelps, that Mr. Dixon is not at home today, for if he was, you would get hurt. There would be a fuss."

"Born in a Fuss"
It was typical of John Phelps that he replied, "It is a good thing for Mr. Dixon, madame, that he is not at home, for if he was, he surely would be hurt. I was born in a fuss, and nothing pleases me better than to be engaged in a fuss."

Since the erection of Lee county, there have been no changes in the boundary lines of Ogle, and the county seat question was definitely settled. As the lands come into market and subject to entry, the people who had made claims secured the warranty of the government to full and uninterrupted possession, and settled down to a course of industry that has made their county one of the foremost in the Rock River Valley.

By following subsequent installments in the story of Oregon in the Telegraph, readers will be informed of more stories and intimate details in the expansion of that community.

Lyons Says 38 Per Cent Of '35 Relief Clients Under 16

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Leo M. Lyons told the 54th annual meeting of the Illinois Childrens Home and Aid society yesterday that in 1935 38 per cent of all persons on relief in Illinois were under 16 years of age.

In addressing the society, the Chicago relief administrator described hardships of children whose parents were receiving relief.

Lyons said 446,000 boys and girls under 15 years of age were of families on relief in 1935.

He asserted there were 14,500 children in Chicago unable to attend school because of inadequate relief, adding that the city was meeting only 69 per cent of the relief budget prescribed by private agencies.

TO PLAN CAMPAIGN
Chicago — (AP) — State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, who announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, said last night he planned to file his petition in Springfield Monday. He announced at the same time that the entire slate of candidates picked at the Urbana meeting would meet in Springfield that night to outline plans for the campaign.

ARCTIC HYSTERIA

Up in the Arctic—there is a strange malady that sometimes attacks the strongest men for no apparent reason. It is known among explorers of the frozen wastes as "Arctic hysteria."

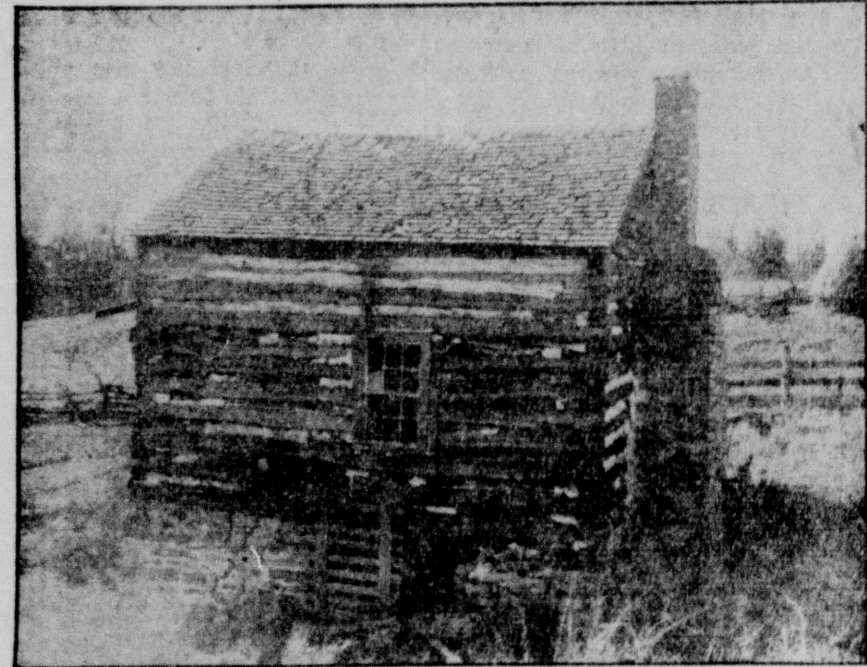

Careful tests reveal that as much as two days before the arrival of one of the dreaded Arctic storms, attended as they usually are by intense magnetic disturbance, the human heart beat generally sinks to about one-half its normal rhythm.

This rising tension and tempo seem to have some relationship to the tension in the magnetic conditions that accompany the Arctic tempest.

HORNER PLEASED

Springfield — (AP) — Commenting on the temporary injunction granted in Chicago to restrain the national bituminous coal commission from enforcing its price rates for railroad locomotive fuel, Governor Horner said:

"I am happy that partial justice has been done. I hope the commission will now proceed to do full and permanent justice to all mining companies in the state so that miners now out of work as a result of the commission's action may return to employment."

Cabin of Gov. Thomas Ford, which stood just east of the home of John Phelps, the first white settler in Oregon.

near his home. The first frame barn in Oregon was built by Phelps in 1838 and was erected on the west side of Third street.

In 1835 Phelps also established the first ferry at Oregon. The lumber used in the construction of the boat was sawed out by hand with a whip saw by himself and his brother, George. After the craft was completed and ready for use it was managed for a number of years by Jonathan W. Jenkins.

First Store
The first trading place was opened by "Messrs. Mudd & Brown" in 1836. They kept a small stock of groceries and whiskey in a small building which they erected near the grounds later occupied by the stone residence of Henry Burchell.

Harvey Moss, in the same year, opened the first dry goods store in a small frame building.

The earliest schools of Oregon

1836, was the first physician to prescribe cures for the ills of the early Oregon citizens.

Lamoll T. Jenkins, son of Jonathan W. and Rebecca Jenkins, who was born in July, 1837, was the first white male child born in the community. Lamoll died in California in 1865, from the effects of a pistol shot wound received in Montana soon after the assassination of Abraham Lincoln. The trouble grew out of a difference of political opinion between himself and others by whom he was surrounded.

The first female child to be born in the community was Martha E. Mix, daughter of William J. Mix, who was born on November 28, 1836. In later life she became Mrs. G. M. McKinney.

With Harvey Moss as postmaster, the post office was established early in 1837. The mail was supplied once a week, on Saturday, from Buffalo on the Galena and Dixon mail route. Jackson Jenkins, then a boy of twelve or thirteen years, was the carrier.

Ogle County Established
In 1836 Ogle county was established by act of the legislature and was named by Governor Thomas Ford, who was one of the early settlers in Oregon. The name of Ogle was intended to perpetuate the memory of Captain Ogle, an army officer of great courage and daring who was conspicuous in the siege of Fort Henry. In 1836 the county embraced all of Lee county, which was set off from Ogle in February, 1839. During the time the two counties were one there was constant strife between Dixon and Oregon for the county seat. The rival interests finally brought about the final division and separation. During this rivalry the 23 North, Range 10 East of the Fourth Meridian, as the place for the future court house. A stake was set on Sand Hill and the contract was let in January, 1839, for grading Sand Hill and building a court house and jail. The court house contract was awarded to Dr. William J. Mix, Martin C. Hill and John C. Hulett, while the contract for the jail was first awarded to John Acker, but conditions not being complied with, it was later given to Joseph Knox. Plans for the court house called for a two story building to be 40 by 50 feet "from out to out," the narrow way fronting the river and the walks to rest on stone foundations sunk four feet in the ground and raised three feet above the surface. The lower story plans called for it to be twelve feet in height with eighteen-inch walls. A hall or passage-way ten feet wide, was to extend from front to rear, on either side of which the county offices were to be located. Provisions were made for large windows to light the offices. The second story was to be ten feet high above the floor and to be finished off as a court room. Plans for a jail 18 by 18 feet, two stories high, were adopted and the walls were to be solid stone three feet in thickness and the whole building correspondingly strong throughout.

Counties Separated
February 27, 1839 the act providing for the erection of Lee county was approved and became a law. This left Ogle county with 18 full townships and about seven half townships of land—thirty-nine miles from east to west and twenty-one miles from north to south.
